SERVING YOUR TOWN-Everyone except those unfortunates who live alone in the desert are part of a community, whether that community be large or small.

How much are you a part of your community? The test is easy to make: If your answer is "Yes" to the following then you are indeed serving well yourself, your family, your friends, your community.

Do you participate in community activities? Engage in the work of its service organizations? Interest yourself as a good citizen in promoting good local government? Keep yourself informed so that you may vote intelligently on local questions?

It has been our observation that those who can answer "Yes" to the above are the citizens who are the backbone of growth and progress in any town-no matter where they live.

WELL REMEMBERED-Do you think there is something wrong with your town? If you do, the answer to the problem is in greater personal interest and activity of its citizens-not in adopting the attitude that local affairs are unworthy of your atten-

The curbstone critics are a dime a dozen. but the man who knows and loves his town, who is confident that the majority of its citizens and its officials are honest and loyal, is the man whose word carries the most weight in public opinion.

Many people find Escanaba that kind of a town, and they remember it fondly if they should move elsewhere. One of these is the Rev. Otto Steen, pastor for many years of the First Methodist church in Escanaba, now pastor of the First Methodist church at Marine City, Mich.

He recently wrote to a friend in Escanaba that he is busy and happy in his work there, "but it was terribly hard to leave Escanaba, which we think is the best place in the world in which to live. It was always a great joy just to walk downtown and meet friends almost everywhere, and the Escanaba surroundings are most beautiful."

Do you think that if you should move away from your home town you would remember it kindly? And more to the point. perhaps, would your fellow citizens and "the old home town" rate your praise?

WILLING WORKERS-The test of a good citizen is his willingness to work for the good of his community.

In Escanaba, for example, there are many citizens who, at some inconvenience and cost to themselves in the time they devote to civic affairs, accept appointment to serve on municipal boards and commis-and W. P. Schuldes of the Appeal Board.

Both had been members, accepting appointment and reappointment, since the Board was established in 1948. During the past five years Jensen has been chairman and Schuldes secretary, and they and the other members of the Board have heard 101 requests for exceptions to the city's zoning ordinance. All of these requests come from citizens of the community. The Board in making deicsions, either for or against the applicant, had ever before it the ideal of deciding for the best interest of the community with due regard for the rights and privileges of the individual.

The more citizen participation in local government, the greater is citizen understanding of the many problems that beset the community, and the necessity to solve them for the public good.

CITIZEN ATTITUDE - Perhaps in every community you will find those citizens who approach local government from the strictly destructive viewpoint.

Perhaps they consider their activities constructive because they have to do with criticism of how the city is operated. But there is a wide gulf that separates the motives of those who work for a better city and those who sit on the sidelines and voice destructive criticism.

Those who like their hom town and its people usually have the respect of the citi-Most significant accomplishment zenry; while those who can only find fault Thule is about halfway between this winter is the way the fighter and tear down what others build are selthe North Pole and Arctic Circle planes based here have licked the dom elected or appointed to public office.

U. P. Layoffs On Increase

Seasonal layoffs in Upper Michigan have pushed unemployment to 5,500, according to a late release on the labor market situation issued by the Michigan Employment Security Commission. These figures show an increase of 1,800 in unemployment during the past month Reflecting the seasonal increase in unemployment, applications at Upper Peninsula Michigan Employment Security Offices for unemployment compensation increased by 2,285 in thirty days.

Active applications on file with the Escanaba office as of the last of November show 842 male applicants and 122 female. These figures are considerably higher than those shown by any other office in Upper Michigan with the exception of Sault Ste. Marie. But the seriousness of the showing is somewhat offset by the fact that these figures reflect on the situation in both Delta and Schoolcraft counties. Seasonal layoffs in the quarrying industry in Schoolcraft county are usually heavy at this time of the year.

Concerning the Delta-Schoolcraft area, the report states: "Completion of two pipeline projects and reductions in other industries lowered wage and salary employments about 600 during November. Layoffs also ocurred in lumber, furniture and transportation industries. A small gain was registered in the manufacture of employment increases are expecled in lumber and wood products industry during the next four months, but seasonal influences will curtail activity in quarrying and construction.'

The overall picture for Upper Michigan is summed up as follows: "Seasonal layoffs will take their toll of employment during the next sixty days. Wage and and Gladstone have been purtwo months. Weather conditions and other seasonal factors are expected to force additional cutbacks in construction, transportation, the service industries and retail trade. In addition, small employment losses are expected in the food, machinery and paper industries.

"However, despite some losses in a few manufacturing industries, factory employemnt may advance by 400 within the next two months. We can imagine Tom St. Germain's surprise when he read in yesterday's column that sophomore pivotman John Berrigan was the tallest member of the Trojan cage team at 6-4 . . . You can put your tape measure away, Tom, Berrigan didn't grow over the Christmas holidays . . . What we meant to say was that Dick Bryson is tallest the first post-holiday game for spread early in the final period on the team at 6-4 . . . In fact, he's crowding 6-5 . . . At last rewhen Bolm scored from the field port, Berrigan measured 6-foot.

> Big league hockey will come to the Upper Peninsula next month in the form of the Detroit Red Wings, currently leading the National Hockey League by a slim margin . . . The defending NHL champions will appear in Marquette on Tuesday, Feb. 2, for an afternoon game at the prison and a night game at the Palestra . . . Jack Adams, manager of the Red Wings, made the announcement this week . . . Adams and Ted Lindsay made a tour of the Upper Peninsula last summer.

The Menominee-Marinette boxing team, coached by Leo Legacy, will make a wholesale appearance on a Green Bay Moose Lodge card 8 by out-maneuvering the Braves son record at 3-3. Gladstone has tonight . . . The M-M fighters will meet a team of Green Bay mittmen . . . There will be seven fights on the show . . . With his boys gaining valuable experience in the Green Bay shows, Legacy is expected to make a strong bid for team honors when the Upper Peninsula Golden Gloves championship tournament is staged in Escanaba > Carl (Buck) Nystrom, first Marquette boy ever to play in a Rose Bowl game, was honored at an elaborate homecoming celebration in his home town last night . . . He was guest of honor at the Marquette Elks Club and was presented with a handsome gift . . . Nystrom played 39 minutes in Michigan State's 28-20 victory over UCLA at Pasadena on New Year's Day.

Lisle Blackbourn, new head coach of the Green Bay Packers, had a fabulous record as coach of Washington High School in Milwaukee before he took over the coaching duties at Marquette University four years ago . . . He piloted his prep teams to 140 victories against 30 losses and six ties in prep competition . . While busy with an extensive rebuilding program at Marquette, he led his Hilltoppers to 18 FG FT PF TP wins, 17 losses and four ties . . . The drive for material began to 12 pay off in 1953 when Marquette won six, lost three against Wisconsin, Michigan State and Indiana by a total of nine points, and tied one.

BE SURE TO CLIP AND SAVE which she lost both legs, Rebecca all 13 chapters so you'll have them for ready reference as you work on your return. Because of the hundreds of thousands of taxpayers who use the primer each year, individual Already the 48-year-old editor of inquiries can NOT be answered by this newspaper or the

By RICHARD A. MULLENS NEA Income Tax Expert

There's good news brewing for taxpayers. The first tax cut since 1948 became effective Jan. 1. And Congress will soon take up the administration's proposals for changes in the tax laws. Proposals such as a tax break for working mothers, and increased medical deductions 'How Not To Start A New Year." have a good chance of being adopted in 1954.

But you can't forget the high taxes in 1953 until after you settle New Year accident victims," she up with Uncle Sam. That means filing a 1953 tax return. The deadwrote. "Who wants to start the line is midnight, March 15, but there's no better time to start than right now, with this first article of NEA's 13th annual Income Tax

The Primer will help both the taxpayer who wants more information than is shown in the official instructions and the taxpayer who has difficulty understanding the official instructions. It will also help you file a correct return, yet take advantage of all dollar saving deductions that you are entitled to.

So, if you have to file a return,$ begin now by saving each article as it appears in this paper.

Then sit down with the articles your Form W-2, and other records of income and deductions, a copy of the 12-page pamphlet of official instructions, and copies of blank tax returns, If you haven't already received blank tax returns in the mail, you can get a copy from most banks and post offices or from your District Director of Internal Revenue.

The first question everyone must answer is-do I have to file a return? The answer is "yes" for everyone, regardless of age or citizenship, who is residing in the United States, and who has gross income of $600 or more.

"Gross income" means all income which must be reported on your return. If you look at the middle of page 5 of the official

What Jan. 15 Means to You
